CLEARING THE DIVISION.

No Steps Will Be Taken by the Police Until Further Notice.

Several weeks ago the authorities decided to cause the removal of keepers of bawdy houses from the immediate vicinity of the Emergency Hospital because of the fact that so many respectable persons have occasion to go to the hospital day and night. Lieut. Amiss served notice on the keepers of these places and gave them until January 1 to move, but thus far they have paid not the slightest attention to the order and the matter will be reported to the Commissioners. Until further orders are received the police will take no steps in the matter.

Some months ago the question of clearing the disreputable houses from 13th street was discussed. This move was desired by the many persons who are employed in the Agricultural Department because it is the direct route from the department to that nue, and a large majority of the employes reside north of the avenue mentioned. About three years ago these houses on 12th street were vacated because of an order from the police, and without much trouble.

WANTED TO DIE.

The Efforts of a Woman to Take Her Own Life.

May Earl, a young woman who has lived in a bad locality for a long time, and who was summoned as a witness in the stamp robbery case, was held under lock and key in the first police staffon last night, and while there she made four desperate attempts to take her life. Early in the evening she had been drinking, and, it is said, had danced on the plane in the house where she was staying. In addition to injuring the piano, it is said she disfigured and dam-$1.25 AND $1.48 HATS FOR 50C. aged chairs. She was not put in an ordinary cell when first locked up, but was put in one of the witness rooms on the second floor. These roems, though small, are comfortably fur-nished, and, with the exception of the iron bars covering the windows, there is nothing about them to indicate that they are other than small hotel rooms. But May was not satisfied with her lot and she used a piece of the sheeting in an effort to strangle herself to death. She came near succeeding when she made the first at-tempt, for when Miss Lewis, the matron, heard a suspicious noise in the room and opened the door, the young woman was from her throat, and after working on the

Miss Lewis assured her that she would do all in her power to prevent her, and, in order that she might be closely watched, the young woman was transferred to one of the prison cells on the lower floor, and then she attempted to end her life with pieces of her clothing. When she had stripped herself of most of her clothing and could no longer make a noose, she attempted to use one of the steels from her corset. The matron watched her until daybreak and prevented her from ending her life in the station.
"But I'll kill myself before sundown," she told the matron.

"If you do I can't help it," the matron told her. "I was determined that you should not do it while in my charge."

Dumbarton Avenue Church to Introduce Individual Chalices at Communion.

The Second Methodist Church in This Conference to Adopt the Practice-Other Items

An innovation in the District Methodist churches will be introduced here on next communion Sunday. The new feature will consist of the use of individual chalices at the communion service, instead of the one large silver goblet that has heretofore been exclusively used. Dumbarton is the second church in the whole Baltimore conference to adopt the individual cups.

The service, which has already arrived from Rochester, N. Y., is made up of five mahogany trays, about eleven inches in diameter, and twelve and a half dozen of small, plain but fine imported glasses. There will be thirty glasses to the tray. The first church in the Baltimore conference to use the individual service was Grace of Baltimore. There it was intro duced only about one week ago. The adop tion of the cups by the church was made through its official board. The substitution of individual cups for the one now used by all communicants is spreading largely. It is commended on the grounds of health and propriety. Revival services will be begun at the Dumbarton Avenue Church next Sunday evening. It is expected that they will continue for three weeks and even longer The interest manifested will govern their duration. The arrangements already made provide for three weeks of services. Metho-dist pastors from all over the District will preside. On Saturday evening there will be no service. The literary circle of the Dumbarton Church will hold its meeting tonight at 6:30, instead of 8 o'clock, so as not to interfere with the attendance at the united prayer services. On Friday next the meeting of the Sunday school board, for the purpose of electing officers of the school, will be held.

Historical Society was held at the resi- the District." dence of Dr. J. M. Toner on Highland Terrace last evening. It brought out a larger attendance than any other meeting this winter, and the evening proved to be most entertaining and instructive.

The principal subject dwelt upon at the meeting had reference to the secretaries who served Gen. Washington during his official career. An interesting paper on this subject was read by Mrs. Mary Stevens bell, which threw considerable side light on the life of the first President of who worked close to him after he became the nation furnished the topic for the paper, which was made more interesting by the exhibition of many original documents ad papers, as well as official copies made revolution. The secretaries who assisted Gen. BOARD OF TRADE DIRECTORS.

Business Transacted at Their First Meeting in the New Year.

The board of directors of the board of trade held their first meeting after the holiday season in the rooms of the board, Ames building, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. A number of the chairmen of the standing committees of the board of trade were also present, by invitation, to take part in the consideration of the special board during the current year and the best methods of accomplishing it.

The president, Mr. B. H. Warner, occupied the chair, Mr. John B. Wight performing the duties of secretary.

The members present then indulged in an informal discussion of the District's interests in Congress during the present session. It was the unanimous opinion that the bill providing for an issue of bonds for sewer and street extension should be urged on the attention of our lawmakers as a matter of vital public importance for the public health and the material prosperity of the District, and that its speedy passage would be the means of saving a large number of the lives of our citizens as well as a large amount of money. In view of these facts the board felt that no opportunity should be lost for securing the passage of the bill with the least possible

On recommendation of the committee on membership the following named gentlemen were elected members of the board of trade: Dr. Wm. W. Johnston, Rev. George William Douglas and Messrs. Wm. A. Meloy, Barr & Sanner, J. C. Dowell and John B. Lord.

After action had been taken defining the duties of the committees on insurance, uni versities, sewerage and public library, the secretary brought to the notice of the board the coming convention of the national board of trade, to be held in this city beginning the 20th instant. The officers of the board of trade were instructed to extend the proper courtesies to the delegates to the convention. The president was further authorized to appoint four delegates to the convention on the part of the board. The secretary was then authorized to select a suitable date for the next meeting of the board of trade, about the 21st or 22d of the present month. The committee on trade organizations was requested to confer with the labor organizations in regard to the proposed bond issue bill and to report on the subject to the board at its next meeting. In the absence of further business to demand its attention the board then adjourned.

YOUTHFUL BURGLARS.

They Commence to Rob Early in Life and Are Arrested.

Three small boys-thirteen, twelve and ten years, respectively-left their homes in the vicinity of 2d and C streets northeast, Sinday afternoon, and started in the direction of J. H. Flannagan's jewelry store, on 7th street, because they had been told that they would have no trouble to rob the window. Several weeks ago the window was smashed and rebbed, and there had been a box put against the opening to protect the articles in the window from thieves. These young boys waited until after sundown, and officers complimented the organization on then they committed the robbery without much trouble, getting about $30 worth of combs and various small articles, such as would be found in such an establishment On their way home the boys stopped at Scott's cigar store, corner of Pennsylvania avenue and 41-2 street, and robbed the show case. Two of the boys did not re-turn home Sunday night, and yesterday morning Policemen Barney and Ellsworth arrested the trio. They were endeavoring to dispose of the plunder. He had been beaten from head to foot by the evil forces that lurk in the business of the meeting-the work of the winter air. Not alone in the outer air, but in the hot, stuffy atmosphere of overheated dwellings and places of business.

The effect is woefully familiar, even when the cause is unsuspected. Headache, a feeling of assitude, a diminished appetite and a general sorecirculation of the blood is slow. A sharp current of air sends the blood from the tangle of tiny nerves just beneath the skin to the interior of the body. Then the sufferer coughs and perhaps feels a little stab-like pain in the chest.

Two well-dressed young men, Charles McKinley and Charles Everett, were locked up last evening by the detectives on various charges of swindling, and tomorrow they will be tried in the Police Court. It is charged that they have been using bogus checks, which, the police say, are as plentiful now as snow flakes were only a few days ago. Charles McKinley, who is about thirty years old, it is charged has swindled a number of persons here. He belongs in Philadelphia, is married, and is salesman for a wholesale dealer in furniture covering. The clerks of several hotels know him to their sorrow, so it is said, for he succeeded in borrowing from them small sums of money under the pretext of wanting to pay for his baggage. At the Normandie it is said that several days ago he got $5, and he is also alleged to have got a similar sum at the Raleigh on the opening day of the hotel. It is also charged that George Breitbarth and John Rudden are among his victims. Saturday night he called at the shoe store of Hoover & Snyder, on Pennsylvania avenue, and bought a $6 pair of patent leather shoes, presenting a note and check, both of which purported to bear the signature of Robert Willett, clerk of the Court of Appeals. He got the shoes, and was wearing them last night when Detective Boardman and Private Detective Dakin arrested him. Mc-Kinley had moved from one boarding house to another, and had given the officers some trouble to apprehend him.

Detectives Weedon and Horne arrested Everett on complaint of Bruce Herrell, and it is charged that he gave Mr. Herrell a worthless check for $5 on the Washington Loan and Trust Company. COLORED DEMOCRATS.

It was after midnight when the association adjourned, and from what was learned on the outside it seems to have been a very squally meeting. James A. Ross of Philadelphia presided, and R. W. Thompson of Indiana was made secretary and R. G. Still of Pennsylvania was made permanent chairman. Recorder Taylor did not attend, but sent a letter, but it was said that this was not read, because it was alleged to centain too many person-alities, which would have provoked a disturbance. But I understand, from good authority, that through Company, which gets a mouthly rental of about $250 for the sidewalk at the corner of 9th street, the order was never ed and not served.

This has occurred several times since and the said sidewalk dealers are still occupying the street from the building line the matter soon the legitimate dealers in all of the markets will bring it to the attention of Congress, and if possible have a Lexow committee to investigate. Why let the sidewalk dealers on the said avenue have more privileges than store-The law says that only four feet from the goods, and the law is enforced in other parts of the city. Why not on Louisiana

A Noted Abelitionist Dead.

Rev. Dr. King a noted abelitionist, is dead. He did great work in establishing and maintaining colonies in Canada for refugee slaves. The character of Clayton in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was modeled after deceased.

I should think a notice from a police officer to the occupant of a house would be sufficient. But what shall be said about the government reservations—who is to compel the authorities to perform their duties? Could a case be to perform their duties? Could a case be made against any official for failure to obey this law?
